WE ARE CREATED FOR MOVEMENT NOT FOR SITTING

Most of us during the course of a day are caught up in an impassive marathon – moving from one seat to another. We need to be able to move around freely and sitting for long periods of time puts a tremendous strain on the body.

Stokke offers a unique collection of sitting solutions that guarantee movement and variation for the user.

Intelligent sitting solutions

Stokke's products are daring, different and unconventional!

They ensure you'll be able to move freely even when you are sitting for long periods of time.

DATE™ by Stokke

A date is a meeting between people – it is the beginning of a relationship.

Date™ by Stokke is an invitation to spend time with people you love. In order to support the body properly the chair has to become a body. And that is the secret and beauty of Date™ – something the lines and curves of the chair confirm.

To gather around a table and enjoy a meal is a sensual thing, which evokes all of our senses. And when people take pleasure in the company of each other, it is a date in the broadest meaning of the word.

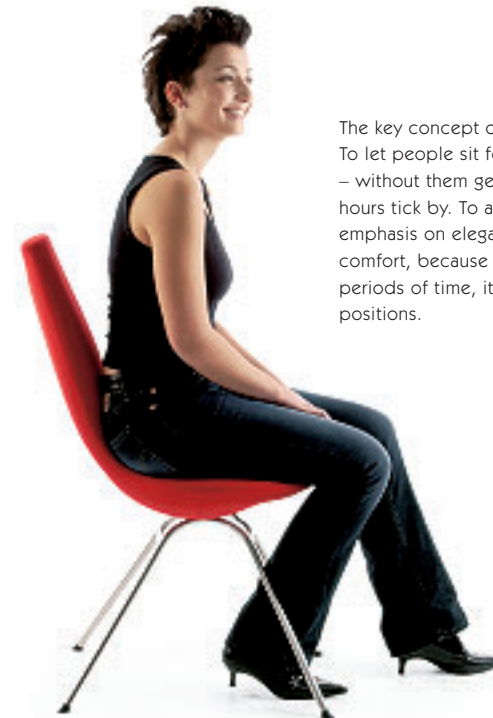

The effect is that you can change sitting positions smoothly and achieve the freedom and movement necessary to feel relaxed and comfortable.

Underneath delicate fabrics, leather and upholstery, you find a torsion spring mechanism that allows you to lean forward to the table, to sit upright at ease and to lean backwards if you need to stretch.

Date™ has soft plastic gliders to avoid scratches on the floor. The gliders are transparent (without pigment) and therefore make no black marks.

The key concept of Date™ is table happiness. To let people sit for as long as they want – without them getting uncomfortable as the hours tick by. To achieve this we have put the emphasis on elegance and ultimate sitting comfort, because if you are to sit for long periods of time, it must be easy to alter sitting positions.

Date™ has a detachable cover, which makes changing colour and cleaning possible.
