CBS AV/VC SOLUTIONS

The AV and VC requirements of companies all over the world are changing. Video Conferencing is enabling cost-effective face-to-face communication on a global scale and is increasingly being used as a standard business practice.

And with the increasing awareness of the sustainability agenda and companies facing economic and environmental pressures, the use of VC applications will continue to grow exponentially. To accommodate this demand, CBS has focused product design expertise on creating a full range of AV/VC stands, capable of integrating with all VC suppliers and other related technologies. Designed with flexibility and functionality at its core, CBS AVALL and CBS VCALL combine practicality with exceptional design.
